A FRIENDLY SPIRIT.
Uncle Sam Has Not Yet Hurt the French Sensibilities.
(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
PARIS, Aug. 25.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Le Matin has an interview with Henry Vignaud, secretary of the United States Embassy, on the subject of the Waller case. Vignaud denied that there was any question yet of demands or disagreement between France and America.
"Ambassador Eustis," said Vignaud,
"for the present has only asked for the production of the documents connected with the case, which were mislaid during the voyage from Madagascar.
Newton B. Eustis, second secretary of the embassy, and son of the Ambassador, goes to Clairvaux today with the legal adviser of the embassy, to interview Mr. Waller. France and America are discussing the matter in a friendly spirit, and the friendly relations are unimpaired. No disagreement has arisen or could arise on this subject."

SHOULD FEEL OBLIGED TO US.
LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily News says: "The Waller affair ought to teach the French
the danger of their revised espionage law. America will protect, with the same firmness, this convicted spy, as if he were a white man. The spy law, as it now stands, is barbarous, and France should feel obliged to America for giving this demonstration of its evil. Should a good case be made out, it is believed the court-martial which sentenced Waller will be disavowed."

A Test of Machine Guns.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—A general test and competition between machine guns has been set to begin on Monday, September 16, at Indian Head. It is expected that six machine guns will enter this contest, three of them being automatic and three not so, the automatic guns being the Colt, the Maxim, Nordenflett and the Hotchkiss; the others being the Gatling, the Acacia and the Pratt and Whitney. It is expected this test will continue for about two weeks.

They Got Out of Utah.
SALT LAKE (Utah), Aug. 25.—A special to the Tribune from Cheyenne,
Wyo., says that the Princeton students whose arrest was ordered yesterday by Gov. Richards, succeeded in getting out of the State before the machinery of the Wyoming laws for their detention could be put into use.

EIGHT BANDITS HANGED.
A SENSATIONAL EXECUTION AT KUBYN, RUSSIA.

The bloodthirsty villains resist the executioner and are brought to something like submission by the knout.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)
LONDON, Aug. 25.—(Special Dispatch.) The world generally believes the fate of a Russian exile in Siberia is worse than death, but it is not known to most people that capital punishment in Russia is extremely rare. In a majority of cases where the death sentence is pronounced the culprits receive a reprieve and are sent to the mines.
A few months ago a band of thirteen bloodthirsty bandits in the district of Kubyn were captured, tried and sentenced to be hanged. Five were subsequently respited and their sentences were commuted to life-long labor. Capital sentence on the remaining eight was executed last week in the little town of Kubyn.

The gallows were erected in an elevated position on the side of a hill facing the town. The greatest difficulty was experienced by the authorities in finding an executioner. Official advertisements for a hangman were published at Batoum, Tiflis and Baku, but brought no response. Ultimately an executioner was found in the person of a blacksmith.
When the hangman produced the head covers all the prisoners, with one exception, resisted, and more especially three powerful culprits. The executioner only succeeded in reducing them to something like passive submission by the application of a heavy whip. Each one resisted to the utmost of his manacled ability, at the same time screaming their curses.

Ended by Killing Himself.
MALDEN (Mass.), Aug. 25.—Daniel J.
McLeod, a carpenter, attempted to kill his divorced wife, Mary McLeod, on Washington street, this afternoon, and afterward shot himself dead. The woman is badly wounded.

A Cholera-stricken Port.
ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 25.—Seven deaths from cholera have occurred on board the steamer Balkov, which arrived at Vladivostok on August 6
from Chee-Foo, China, since which time sixteen cases and twelve deaths have occurred at Vladivostok.

Killed in Africa.
BRUSSELS, Aug. 25.—Lieut. Pelzer, of the Belgian officer commanding the Kasai district of the Congo State, has been killed while fighting the natives.

Sister Minnie.H. H. Holmes Breaks Silence at Last With a Certified Statement.

He Sets Forth His Relations to the Mystery of the Whereabouts of the Dead and Living—Cremated No Bodies.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—A signed statement written by H. H. Holmes in prison at Philadelphia and certified to by his lawyers, going into all details
of his acquaintance with Minnie Williams, is printed by a local paper.
The intelligence office kept by one Campbell on Dearborn street, Chicago, in January, 1895, and employed her as a stenographer. She was installed in his office in the building which has been known as Holmes' "castle," and transferred to her by warrant deed a
house and lot at Williamette, Ill.,
valued at $7500. The money was returned to her in May, 1895, and she
desired to convert her other southern property into cash, and having
some one other than herself sign the
same to a fictitious place and offer the
property for sale at a very low price,

ern property into cash, and having
some one other than herself sign the
same to a fictitious place and offer the
property for sale at a very low price,

He continues: "It is certain that no body was cremated there during my occupancy of the rooms, my own experience years ago being quite sufficient to show the danger of such proceedings on account of the awful odor, if I had no other motive to deter
me from such a course."
Holmes says that in April Minnie Williams, knowing him to be in need of money, gave him a draft for $2500,
the proceeds of the sale of real estate
she had held in Texas, and asked him to use it until she should need it. In order that she should be protected, he transferred to her by warrant deed a
house and lot at Williamette, Ill.,
valued at $7500. The money was returned to her in May, 1895, and she
desired to convert her other southern property into cash, and having

This afternoon a train of twelve cars, containing the Iowa delegates, was warmly welcomed. The delegation that has excited the most curiosity of the citizens here was the Golden Gate Commandery of San Francisco, which arrived this afternoon. They were received with open arms by an immense crowd, and were escorted through the streets by the Boston commandery.
At the head of this parade was a four-masted sailing ship, which carried the colors of the commandery, and which was followed by a band of speakers. His bearing, however, got tired before the end of the route, and he had to drop out. He will be in condition for Tuesday's parade, however.
During the early evening and up to midnight every train brought in its quota.

This afternoon a special Knight-templar service was held in Trinity Church, and that edifice was crowded by the knights and their ladies. The good words by Grand Prelate Joseph
M. McGrath.
Tomorrow will be a busy day for arrivals, over 150 delegations being scheduled to arrive.

THEY WILL NOT MARCH.
PROVIDENCE (R. I.), Aug. 25.—The St. John Commandery No. 1, Knights Templars of this city, the oldest commandery in America, tonight announced its refusal to join in the parade
at Boston on Tuesday because of a misunderstanding among the commanders. It became known last week that Gen. Lawrence had changed his plans and had decided to place St. John Commandery No. 1 of Boston ahead of Providence. Calvary Commandery of this city is considering the advisability of also remaining out of the parade
through sympathy.

The members of St. John Commandery feel that as they were given the right of line at Washington and Denver they should be first in the line of attached commanderies in the Boston parade.

LONDON MARKETS.
Rates for Money Slacken—Gilt-edged Stocks Advance.
(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
LONDON, Aug. 25.—(By Atlantic Cable.) With the continued influx of gold, the rates for money have slackened, and from the same cause gilt-edged stocks have advanced, but the exception was the mining market,
in which business was exceedingly quiet, although prices were firm.
Home railroads were strong and foreign railroads were quiet. There was a good demand for Turks, but Spaniards were weak. Paraguay securities advanced. American securities were better, especially the bond issues,
which were in good demand at advanced prices.
Shares were neglected, but the anticipations of Erie and Reading reorganization schemes, when issued, will improve matters. Eries have been sold on a basis of a $12 assessment. Grand Trunks have been better on better traffic prospects. Advances have been as follows: Illinois Central, 2; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Lake Shore, 1/4. Other movements were fractional.

A Fatal Boiler Explosion.
PALERMO, Aug. 25.—An explosion of a boiler occurred at the Somacoma mills on Saturday. The premises were destroyed. Five persons were killed and twenty injured.

Banditti and Basements

Hidden Wealth.A Chinese Version of the Attacks
Upon the Mission
Buildings

The Ku-Chang Inquiry Proceeds
Slowly—A Rebellion in Kan-Su
Province—German Editors
Desirous of Interfering.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Sam Moy, a prominent Chinese merchant of this city, has received a copy of a Chinese newspaper published at Foo-Chow, which gives four columns of space to the attacks upon the English and American missionaries in June. The paper is interesting because it contains a translation of the principal part of the Chinese review of the riots
shows that the attack on the mission houses arose, firstly, from motives of mere robbery, caused by the members of houses with basements, and secondly, by the revelation of the corrupt practices of some of the hangers-on of the mission stations.

According to the paper the missionaries had built houses with basements, something unusual in China. The peculiarity excited the curiosity of the people. There is a large camp of bandits near Ku-Chang, composed of the wild tribes and fugitives from justice from the clyde-parts of Fokien. The banditti heard of the peculiarity of the construction of the missionary houses, and, conceiving that the basements were intended to store treasures, the banditti planned and executed the first raid for the purpose of robbery.

THE KU-CHANG INQUIRY.
LONDON, Aug. 25.—A dispatch to the Times from Shanghai says that the Ku-Chang inquiry has been proceeding
since Wednesday, with all the members of the consular commission present, but progress is slow.
The dispatch adds that a Mahometan rebellion has broken out in the province of Kan-Su and is spreading seriously.

THE REPORT CREDITED.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Neither
the State nor the Navy departments have received any information confirmatory of the newspaper reports that Chinese officials have yielded to the persuasion and are now permitting foreigners to be present at the investigation into the attacks on the missionaries. The report, however, is credited here by those acquainted with the condition of affairs in China, who have felt
all along that the imperial government would not refuse to permit foreign representatives to serve on the commission.

It is felt here that the affairs of the Chinese in China, while the charge of Minister Denby and Admiral Carpenter are in responsible hands, and that they will see that adequate measures of protection are afforded to the extent of their ability.
The Navy Department was today informed of the arrival of the U.S.S. Mon-calm at Chemulpo, Korea.

KOREA'S NEW POSTAGE STAMPS.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—A document received at the State department from Minister Sill at Seoul, Korea, incloses four new postage stamps, the first issued by Korea for domestic purposes. The stamps are in colors and carry, besides their English lettering giving the denomination, several Korean characters, which presumably convey the same information to the natives. They carry no figures, but contain designs. The stamps are manufactured in Washington for the value of one cent to 10 cents of 50 per cent.
Mr. Sill says that the postal bureau is to be conducted in connection with the telegraph and the Department of Public Works.

THE OLYMPIA GOES WEST.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The cruiser Olympia steamed away for China via Honolulu early this morning. Capt. Read denied that he intended to break the record for speed
between this port and the Orient.
NO CHOLERA AT CHEE-FOO.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The State Department has received a cable from Consul Reed at Tien-Tsin stating that cholera at Chee-Foo has disappeared.

INTERESTED IN PREVENTING LONDON BLOODSHED.
LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard telegraphs to that paper that the news that France
will join England and America in stopping the arms traffic to China, has induced some foreign newspapers to express the hope that Germany will do likewise. Germany has a large squadron in Chinese waters.

NICARAGUA AFFAIRS.

Dellaquent Taxpayers Now Obligated
to Pay a Double Rate.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
MANAGUA (Nicaragua), Aug. 25.— (By Central American Cable.) The annual national and municipal taxes upon real estate in Nicaragua are now being collected, and will largely increase the government revenues. All who neglected to report in writing over their signatures before June 1, 1895, to the proper government officials a fair estimate of the value of their property, and full statements of income for the year ending that date are now having these values estimated by the government officials and are paying double the tax rate. The following will illustrate in part these taxes. One-half of 1 per cent on the net income to the municipality and one-half of 1 per cent
to the national government on the valuation of the property.

The net income from merchandise sales is obtained by deducting the usual expenses for clerk hire and rents and debts due before June 1, 1895, to citizens of Nicaragua resident in this country, foreign indebtedness not allowed. One-half of 1 per cent is collected by the municipality on incomes from loans, the usual discount upon what is considered here first-class paper being from 2 to 3 per cent, monthly.
Coffee, catania, guano, 2 cents per pound on all exports, and one-half of 1 per cent on the estimated value of the estate, equivalent annually to about 37 per acre export tax, and 23
cents per acre occupation tax.
Many mine-owners, having declined to give an estimate of value on their property, refused to pay the tax, and their much-watered stock, although they are running at full time with all the employees and machinery, and shipping monthly bullion containing to 30 per cent gold, are now having to pay double rates of taxes.

ROMERO CONVICTED.

SENTENCED TO PAY A FINE AND BE IMPRISONED.

Three and a Third Years for Dueling.
Gen. Rocha and the Four Seconds are Absolved—An Anti-Catholic Fight.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 25.—The entire day yesterday was devoted to the vote of the Verastegui-Romero duel case. The public prosecutor made a great speech, which was immediately circulated in circular form all over the city. He denounced dueling as a crime, demanded the punishment of everybody concerned, and declared his conviction that Romero and his seconds laid a deliberate trap for Verastegui. He considered that Gen. Rocha should be punished for having furnished pistols. The whole thing was premeditated, murder
of Verastegui. The grave was practically dug before he went to the Spanish cemetery to exchange shots with Romero.

The civil prosecuting attorney followed in a speech strongly denouncing Romero, causing an uproar in the court.
Lawyers for the defense followed. Ro-mero's attorney defending his rule to fight as a military man who has received insuring language. The case has gone to the jury.
LATER—Judge de la Hoz occupied two hours in delivering his charge to the jury, finishing at 1 o'clock this morning. The jury adjourned for four days in a verdict of guilty in the case of Col. Romero, and by a majority absolved Gen. Rocha and the four seconds, Frida, Castillo, Barreto and Carrillo. The civil prosecutor asked for a penalty of five years for Romero.

The Judge sentenced Romero to three years and four months at hard labor in the penitentiary. He was to be punished for having furnished pistols. The
whole thing was premeditated, murder
of Verastegui. The grave was practically dug before he went to the Spanish cemetery to exchange shots with Romero.

Dr. Precado was absolved by the jury. Judge de la Hoz then gave notice that he would adjourn for four days
excepting Romero, was, in his opinion,
contrary to the law and the evidence,
and he, therefore, would send the case to the jury. The jury adjourned for four days in a verdict of guilty in the case of Col. Romero, and by a majority
absolved Gen. Rocha and the four seconds, Frida, Castillo, Barreto and Car-
rillo. The civil prosecutor asked for
a penalty of five years for Romero.

A ROCHESTER STRIKE.

Eight Thousand Workmen Involved
in the Garment Makers' Trouble.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
ROCHESTER (N. Y.), Aug. 25.—One of the greatest labor struggles ever waged between employees and employers in this city began last night, when 1000 members of the United Garment
Makers' Association went on strike.
Unless the bosses concede their demands before tomorrow night the finishers and button-hole makers, numbering another thousand, are said to be ready to go out, and the difficulty will affect 3000 laborers.

The strikers demand that all shops
should be strictly unionized, and that wages shall be paid weekly, and demand a general amelioration of their condition. There were no disturbances today.

A Separate Receiver.
OMAHA, Aug. 25.—An effort will be made tomorrow at St. Paul before Judge Sanborn by the bondholders of the St. Joseph and Grand Island road and its leased branch, the Kansas City and Omaha to gain the appointment of a separate receiver. The case comes up in the shape of a hearing on a bill and answer, praying for a separate receiver. The Union Pacific receivers, who now control the road, will oppose a separate receiver. Senator Thurston left for St. Paul tonight.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—(Special Dispatch.) The spread of ideas of the so-called "Peculiar People" has had such tragic effects in certain suburbs of London that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children has undertaken test prosecution in the case of parents who allowed four children to die of diphtheria without medical attendance. Physicians testified life would have been saved in each case by proper treatment.

He said, regarding the treatment of the sick: "We anoint with oil; we lay on hands and have a prayer of faith. We base our beliefs on the epistles according to St. James."

These means were adopted in the case of each of the deceased children. The witness performing the ceremony was himself. He knew the accused and his wife to be a good father and mother. They were always kind and ally called in cases of illness. He performed the ceremony according to the "Peculiar People's" rites on other children suffering from diphtheria, and they all got well.

As announced in these columns some time ago, the annual tournament of the Southern California Lawn-Tennis Association will begin at Santa Monica today, and continue throughout the entire week. The games will all be played on the course at the back of the Casino on Third street, Santa Monica, and they will consist of gentlemen's singles, gentlemen's doubles, ladies' singles and mixed doubles.

The prizes are now on exhibition in the show-window of Montgomery Bros., and are unusually handsome and tasteful. They have been arranged as follows:

For all comers, doubles, two silver challenge cups, now held by M. A. and L. N. Chase; all comers, doubles, second prizes, two tennis rackets; all comers, doubles, first prizes, two cut-glass decanters; ladies' singles, first prize, solid silver manicure set; ladies' singles, second prize, silver-mounted shawl brush; ladies' doubles, first prize, solid silver comb; mixed doubles, ladies' first prize, two cut-glass decanters; mixed doubles, ladies, second prize, a pair of opera-glasses; mixed doubles, gentlemen, a diamond watch chain.

Among the players who are to participate in the tournament is Paul Arnold, one of the faculty of Stanford University, who, with his brother David, will make a strong team in the doubles; on the Boyle Heights courts he has been playing an exceptionally brilliant game ever since his return. It may be remembered that he won a set in a match with Bob Carter during his first year here. L. Picher and V. Freeman of Pasadena, the champion doubles of Southern California, put up a remarkable game in many ways; it was their unflinching steadiness that helped them win the cup last year from the Carters, and they will defend it from the winners of the coming tournament this year. McGilvray and Rowan, also of Pasadena, are strong players from San Diego; Arthur Bumiller and D. E. Lester, W. H. Young, G. L. Waring, D. Acker and other well-known players from the local players are entered as contestants, either singles, doubles or both.

The Riverside contingent is not yet definitely known, but some strong players are promised. Miss Maria Jones, Mrs. Fred Teale and Mrs. Judge Hendricks have entered for ladies' singles and mixed doubles, and other players from Santa Monica, Riverside and Pasadena. Besides the local players, Driscoll and Delong, the champion of the north, in doubles, are coming down to do team work and they will contest the singles as well.

Through the unexpected resignation of Mr. Lindsay, secretary of the association, the whole management of the tournament has devolved upon Messrs. W. C. Way and W. E. Lester, who have worked energetically to make the affair a success. Entries for the tournament close today at 10 o'clock.

BRUNSWICK VICTORIOUS.

The Trilby Baseball Club Defeated Yesterday Afternoon.

The fourth game of the series of five between the Brunswick and the Trilby baseball clubs for $50 a side, was played yesterday afternoon at Athletic Park before a crowd of several hundred people. The game was won handsily by the Brunswick Club, the score at the conclusion of the game standing 17 to 10, in favor of the Brunswicks. The feature of the game was the brilliant batting of the Brunswick players, who made seventeen base hits off the pitching of Shaw, of the Trilby team. The tabulated score of the game is as follows:

LEAGUE PENNANT RACE.

A Size-up of the Prospects of the Leading Clubs.

The League pennant race is fast approaching its most exciting stage, viz., that stage where almost every game won and every game lost can be clearly seen to influence the chances of the leaders for the pennant. The grand struggle between the East and the West has begun, and we will probably be soon able to tell whether or not the East or the West will get the victory. Of course the chances are greatly in favor of the East. The Baltimore are playing a powerful game, and they will be aided by all the advantage of being at home, which to them are very great advantages, indeed.

The Bostonians have taken an awful tumble, and their chances for the pennant are not very bright, certainly not as good as those of the Clevelanders. Were the latter going to remain at home for eighteen or twenty games, instead of going East, they would very likely win the pennant. The Pittsburgh team will do well to keep up among the leaders. The New York players have ruined the chances of the team by disabling Killen and Clineham, and the team, crippled as it is, will do well to finish among the first four or five. Stuart's new infielder, is quite a promising player, and may become a star.

The Philadelphia players are badly handicapped for lack of pitchers, and manifested, and ultimately deprive the runs, which are so popular at present, of their interest. One of these is the desire of some of the riders for fast riding, in which they will do the best, and unity is one of the essentials to a club run. In some cases the run is divided into two groups of riders—the southerners in one group and the northerners in the other. This plan is likely to destroy the general sociability, and lead to disorganization. An English bicycle publication deprecates the popularity of the club run. The reasons ascribed are the desire for fast riding and the lack of unity among the members. The riders are true enough when they are looked at carefully, but do not seem to apply to American club runs, as their unity is always well preserved.

The feature of a club run is to have some object in view at the end of the run. This point is held up as a horrible example by the English authority, which says that in many cases tea is ordered at the end of the route and a greater number turns out than was expected, and a division is thus necessary. This is not the case here, although the danger of a lack of accommodation for riders is easily seen, but seems to be a necessary evil. The route chosen has much to do with the popularity of the run, and where some particular place has been chosen, the destination of the club to spend the day, each rider can take his time in getting there, and even if the club is not all in a bunch, it will be reunited at the end of the run, and this way the unity of the body is in no wise impaired. It is evident the Englishmen do not understand the club run as it is run in this country. The club officers are, in a large measure, responsible for the interest in the runs. If they are careless about getting out the time and place, and pay little attention to the individual wishes of the members of the club as to the route taken, there is danger the run will be abandoned.

THE GREATEST THE WORLD HAS EVER YET SEEN.

There will be a fistic carnival at Dallas, Tex., during the week beginning October 31, instead of a single battle for the world's championship. That carnival will be the greatest the world has ever seen.

The arrangements are all perfected. Corbett and Fitzsimmons will battle for a purse of $41,000, besides a wager of $10,000, making $51,000 in all for the winner; Maher and O'Donnell for a $5000 purse, and Ryan and Smith for a similar amount and side bet of $2500.

A vast amphitheater is already in progress of construction, under the direction of Dan A. Stewart, the master spirit of the enterprise.

The building will be the largest ever erected in the United States, or, indeed, in the world. Next to the old Colosseum of Rome, no structure could ever compare with this in magnitude. Its seating capacity, boxes, balconies and arena, all considered, will accommodate 52,518 people, five times that which the great Madison Square Garden in New York can do.

At the prices fixed for admission, $10, $20 and $40, the gross receipts, should be $1,000,000. The amount to be divided among the fighters, would amount to $100,000. As great as Patti, Jenny Lind or Christine Neillson or any other ever received at a popular ovation.

IT IS BUILT FOR TWO.

A New Cycling Machine That Will Be Popular.

The "very, very" latest thing in the line of cycling novelties is the duplex cycle, which is being introduced in New York city. The machine is a tricycle built for two. It overcomes, in the most attractive manner, the objection to the old-style of coupling two wheels and brings the riders close together. It is a tricycle, with a lady and a gentleman. The propelling and steering can be done by either rider, thereby allowing them to work or rest. The machine is built for two, and weighs forty-two pounds. The wheels are twenty-six inch and the gear sixty-eight. It has all of the fine points of a bicycle, and is built for speed. It has handle bars, pedals, mud and dress guards, etc. One of the most attractive features of the machine is the use of which it can be put by beginners. There is no danger of its overturning, it runs easy, and will give the much-needed experience in pedaling and position before trying the safety.

A PRINCE OF DRIVERS.

Pen Picture of a Famous American Horseman.

Perhaps there is no class of men more interesting than the drivers and trainers of trotters. The successful driver is essentially a man of the world. In his time he has drunk good wine and associated with the best of society. In his time he has been in the world, and he is world-wise. Many of them are fairly well educated. They can talk well on any subject. The charm of a horseman's conversation is the positiveiveness of his opinions.

Of the older drivers, Orrin A. Hickok has a great reputation for shrewdness and ability. In fact, he is the logician of the stable. He is a man who is logically driven, and are planned out like a demonstration in geometry. He has failed; in fact, for the past two years he has been in the hospital. The which he feels more than any of his critics. He broke down with him in the Columbian free-for-all, and last year he was in the hospital. This year, by the most careful work, he had the mare so that she was faster than ever. But the big Asote took her, and he was moved to a greater flight of speed, so great that many think he can beat even Alx. Yet today there are millionaires willing to back Hickok's mare, and buy anything he recommends. Hickok must change, and Hickok is pretty sure to give more exhibitions of his shrewdness and skill.

Hickok has one great qualification, greater than all other drivers—the best knowledge of pace. No matter whether against a horse or a race, he can tell how fast he is going. This faculty is a gift to a certain extent, made perfect by long, patient work. In personal appearances, Hickok is slender and dapper and always well dressed. He is a good talker, and has very positive convictions. His nerve is great; in fact, he is one of the heaviest plungers among drivers, and will back his opinion to the limit. Success has come to him in his long career, and he is a man who has lived. He has a stable is small, but he sometimes has good things, like his green pacer, alternia.

CLUB RUNS.

They Constitute a Chief Feature of the Cycling Clubs.

The club run is the peculiar institution of cycling life which sustains the interest of the members in the club. Its popularity does not seem to decrease, but, on the contrary, judging from the attendance of the different runs, it is on the increase. There are some features which possibly might cause a falling off in the enthusiasm hitherto manifested, and the present practice of the large stables in employing special trainers to drive their horses is a guarantee that the races in which they take part will be decided on the merits of the horses. There is no doubt that Geers, Dickerson, McDowell and others in the service of particular breeders and owners drive to win. Now and then jobs come to light, and scandal follows. One of the best ways to checkmate such schemes is to have reliable local driver retained and ready to act whenever it appears that a horse is being pulled. There is often room for suspicion that a substituted driver, if a follower of the circuit, will not try hard to defeat the plans of the owner and driver of the horse which he is directed by the judges to pilot.

LEATHER-TIRED BICYCLES.

An Invention Which May or May Not Be Feasible.

Two Frenchmen of Rheims have recently completed an invention which they claim will in a measure revolutionize the present pneumatic tire. They build their wheels by substituting an outer pneumatic tube made of leather for the rubber tubes now in use. Their invention has been patented by the Ministry of War, who are now perfecting the idea with a view to supply all the military cycles with tires that will not give out easily.

The resistance of leather is considerably greater than that of rubber, and it will better stand the pressure from within and the exterior agents of destruction, such as nails, hoops, roots or sharp pebbles. It is an absolute imperfection, but it is at least as good as the fine steel band which was experimentally placed between the outer and inner tubes, and which was pierced by needles and tacks. Leather offers the greatest impenetrability in relation to its thickness without impairing the necessary elasticity. It is further improved by a special preparation which renders it permeable to water. The leather tire is easily repaired in case of perforation—any cobbler can sew it up—and it will stand a punishment not likely to get out of order.

Other advantages claimed for the leather tire are: Greater lightness; it will not get so hot as the rubber tire, and it will not slip on asphalt pavement or wet roads. The new material for the tire seems to meet with great encomiums from the officers of the military authorities of France.

GENTLEMANLY KNOCKOUTS.

Craze for "Physical Culture" Exhibitions Said to Be Reviving.

The Daily Item of New Orleans, whose editor is a lover of the game of all sports so long as it is within the confines of law and order, says: "Between now and the time of the next big fistic card, the craze for 'physical culture' exhibitions is to take place, and it appears that the wall heard some months ago against the sport has entirely died out. In almost every section of the States the craze for pugilism has been revived and matchmaking goes on to-day, with renewed vigor, in the parks of New York city. This is somewhat interesting for more reasons than one. The item is a journal that glides along in the most unobtrusive manner, and for that reason some months ago, when Andy Bowen met his mishap before Kid Lavigne, it jumped onto the boxers with both feet. It has since been the best of what the club intended doing, it was stated that their contests for trying out the law would consist mostly of the 'physical culture' end to be attained, as noted by the Dallas people, has not been mentioned by the New Orleans correspondent; but it is, perhaps, overlooked it. Magnanimous, physical-culture knockouts are things that no decent person objects to; prize-fighting is what bothers us."

SPORTING NOTES.

An accident to any player in one of the leading baseball teams may throw it out of the race.

The story concerning the regular Bostonians playing in England in October turns out to be false. A club named after that city has gone over.

"Tot" Murphy does baseball for the New York Sun when the Glens are on the road. Murphy is a Yale man and a good baseball writer.

The Pittsburgh Times thinks Jim Hart's opposition to the double-umpire system is "just a fancy." The paper is getting too old to handle two of them.

Capt. Anson has signed outfielder McBride of the defunct Austin team of the Texas league. McBride was a star in the Texas league, and Anson has strong hopes that he will succeed in fast company.

Leigh Lynch, who went around the world with the Chicago baseball boys and was reported as a baseball magnate in Jackson, Mich.

Butterworth, Yale's great fullback, has been engaged to coach the University of California football team for its annual game with Stanford University. The latter team will be coached by Walter Camp.

Friends and admirers of Corbett have been counting upon the weakness to win the fight with Fitzsimmons, and have discounted beyond all reason any ability that Fitzsimmons possesses in the same direction.

It is generally understood that the referee of the Corbett and Fitzsimmons match will get $1000 and expenses. "Honest John" Kelly agreed to act as referee, but the Corbett-McNeil fight in Jacksonville when just such a thing was offered. He settled the claim a short time ago for a mitt-jump.

It is possible that "Parson" Davies and Tom Mitchell may make a tour of the South before the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest comes off. Jimmy Barry, Joe Walcott, Bob Armstrong, Joe Elms, George Dixon, Joe Choyinski and Miss Rita.

It is being whispered about in the inner circles that the Boston triumph offered "Pop" Anson a bigger lump sum than that offered to Pitcher Clark Griffith, than any bona fide sum which has been offered for a League player this season. Anson gave the Bostonians the "riches" laugh.

Johnny Lavack, who is considered to be the best feather-weight at present in the West, has been matched to box Tommy White of Chicago, at Columbus, twenty rounds, on September 11. The lad is to weigh in at 120 pounds at 6 o'clock on the evening of the mill.

The Western Croquet Association will hold its first annual meeting at St. Peter, Minn., next week. J. L. Falne of Topeka, Kan., is one of the Executive Committee. The championship contests are open to any reputable player in America, and the rules of the National Association will govern the contests.

Each succeeding week of the National Circuit and its racing results clearly demonstrates that E. C. Bald of the Columbia team is the man of the year. He is the only racing man that ever lowered the world's competition record for the mile three times within one year, and won sixteen of twenty-six one-mile scratch events in which he has started, and all in the remarkable average time of under 2:10. In addition to this, he has won two of this year's national championships, the one-quarter and one-half mile, besides other numerous races of varying distances, and established State and track records on all sorts and conditions of tracks.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says that Latham has not a friend on the Cincinnati team, that not a player speaks to him, and that no one need be surprised to see him traded for another player before the season is over. Latham wants to get away from Cincinnati, and there is more than one club that would like to get him.

Charlie Hoyt has called the play in which Anson is to star next season "The Runaway Colt." The old man will play a billiard game in the second act and in the others he will devote his time to sliding bases and knocking out homers. He will have to take part in a love scene too, but Anson won't mind that. It will be the most interesting part of the show to him.

So far as the league championship of the season of 1895 is concerned it will in all likelihood go to Baltimore unless Manager Reese and Capt. Nash of the Boston team are wide of their mark. Mr. Selee has little or no doubt on that subject. Capt. Nash is a little bit more guarded, but he concedes that the tag will go to the Orioles unless something unforeseen shall occur.

It will cost a cool $1000 to draft a man from the Western League this year. That is a tidy little sum to lay out for an experiment, but it has been proved that over 50 per cent of the pickups from the minor leagues are failures in the major organization. There will be a beating for a quarter of the team next fall, and it will be passing strange if amateurs of promise are not given chances.

Manager Van Dierbeck, well-known to Los Angeles baseball people, is rapidly falling into disrepute with the Detroit papers. Last season he was the most unpopular manager in the league in his own city, but the success of the Tigers in the early part of the season caused the tide to turn in his favor. Now, however, both he and the team are coming in for some very warm criticism.

Galen Brown and Billy Arkenburg of Chicago have shipped their stable, including Libby, Claude Hill, Princess Rose, Uncertainty and Treachery, from St. Louis to the Pacific Coast. With two left-aps to Denver and Ogden, the two western clubs have a head start. Before going to San Francisco Brown and Arkenburg will stop over at Sacramento and take in the running of the local teams.

Miss Seymour won the proud title of Queen of Croquet by defeating Mrs. J. P. Gardner in the final match at the grounds of the Kenwood Country Club in Chicago recently before an interested and enthusiastic audience. The score was 14-10, 14-13. Both players presented a strong game throughout, but Miss Seymour played a steady game at critical moments, and won out by a close margin.

Hanover's son, Buck Masie, has certainly proven a broad-winger this season, having won a round dozen races, and never yet failed to get a place in any sort of company. Byron McClellan has made a mistake in condemning race horses, but when he let Buck Masie go for $1750 he parted with a jewel in the shape of winning horses, and he will never see this very lucky turfman to pick up.

Horace Hayward, who is running a colored professional team at Fort Smith, Ark., has been playing ball country for a number of years. He is known as the "Colored Anson," a name that is very appropriate, as he wears a gray uniform with "Chicago" in his black letters across the breast. The suit was presented to Horace by "Pink" Hawley, and is one of his most valued possessions.

President Robinson has bet $1000 at 4 to 1 that a western club will win the National League pennant. He has great faith in the finishing powers of his own team, the Clevelanders, and that if Pittsburgh and Chicago can help out by winning a fair proportion of their games on the eastern trip that the Spiders will have a good deal better than a 4 to 1 chance of capturing the flag.

A writer in the New York World thus comments on the New York ball team: "Summed up, the New York team is the New Yorks are but a second-division team, under the present management. Ward's handling of the team last year bid fair to give the difference in the management has magnified them this year, and the wonder grows that John Montgomery landed them Temple-cup winners."

Peter Jackson, in a recent conversation with a reporter, said: "I am still in England, although I expected to hear from America some time ago. I don't like to express an opinion about the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, but my sympathies are not with Corbett. He has not treated me fairly in the matter of a chance to meet him, and I don't regard him as truthful in his charges about English sporting matters."

Corbett's favorite form of exercise is walking. He thinks nothing of a jaunt of ten miles. Another form of amusement which he indulges in is handball. He bathes in the sea every day and keeps him in the good order by frequent rubbings and general athletic work. He is not a heavy eater, and, like Fitzsimmons, does not believe in the old system of deprivation. He eats whatever his appetite craves.

The baseball catch of the season was made in New York one day last week. Griffin of Brooklyn turned the trick, and he had a good reason for it. He hit the ball and it went on a line toward center-field fence and looked good for a homer. As the ball reached Griffin he jumped in the air and knocked it down with both right and left hands. It was in his left one as it was falling, but it fell out. Just as the ball was about to fall to the ground, Mike put out his right hand, catching the ball in his glove.

Speaking of a bag-punching exhibition recently given by Fitzsimmons in Buffalo, a spectator, who is also a writer, has written as follows: "His eyes and hands followed the leather ball as it danced and caromed up and down and sideways as truly and as quickly as the magnetic needle points to the North Star. It seemed absolutely impossible for those big fists in their skin-tight covering to miss the sphere as it flew about. He was a bag-punching god. Fitzsimmons can easily discount Corbett."

The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The property valuation of Anaheim, down in Orange county, has increased 10 per cent. over what it was last year. Evidently there has been vast improvement in that portion of the county the past year. A few more thousand acres planted to sugar beets in that section and another raise or two of 10 per cent. will be made.

The Southern California Hotel Men's Association is working earnestly, preparing an itinerary for the Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit Association when it comes to Los Angeles next April to hold its annual convention. The visitors will be met at Barstow with carriages of fruits and flowers and conducted to this city in regal style. With Los Angeles as a base of operations, the bonifaces will be shown all the points of interest in Southern California and given such an entertainment as they never had before.

Fifty-one years ago, John Sawyer, master of the bark Newton of New Bedford, died in San Diego and was buried on Point Loma. A tourist recently noticed the headboard over the grave of Sawyer. He wrote to the Mayor of New Bedford about it, and finds that Sawyer's widow is still a resident of that city, at the age of 80 years. The good woman never knew before where her husband's bones rested. He had gone to sea, and no tidings ever came of him until the inquiry of the tourist was received.

It is to be hoped that, for the good of various important interests the personnel of the new Police Commission will be such as to command for every question pertaining to the work of the commission, careful and conscientious attention and decision. The ticklish problems which served as rocks to split the old commission demand for solution clear heads, honest hearts and inflexible integrity. Tricky time-serving politicians should be relegated to the rear when the question of electing these new commissioners is before the Council.

The statement alleged to have emanated from a member of the City Council, to the effect that a fence shutting off communication between the City Hall grounds and a disreputable joint frequented by libertines and young girls is not necessary because of the good already performed by the press in exposing the proceedings, is worthy of a statesman who thinks not with his cerebrum, but with his bowels. The conclusion of the official referred to would be provocative of hilarity were it not for the seriousness of the subject itself.

In a San Diego garden not far from the center of the city pine apples are grown successfully. The fruit has a delicious flavor. One of these tropical apples weighs twelve pounds. On a ranch in El Cajon Valley hundreds of these pines are raised annually. The fruit is sold for a high price in the local market. Another successful growing experiment in San Diego garden is bearing culture near Carlsbad. It is found that navy and kidney beans grow as luxuriantly as they do at Ventura. Before long San Diego may have a wide reputation as a beanery.

It is time a halt was called in the indiscriminate shipping of invalid paupers to Los Angeles for the benefit of the climate. The County Hospital is crowded, the Associated Charities are out to their wits' end to dispose of all the pitiful cases that come to their notice, and yet the sick and poor flock in, having been given bare transportation from their own cities in various parts of the East, and now coming as a fresh burden upon the already overtaxed resources of Los Angeles. The will to help them is good, but there is neither proper care nor enough money for all the applicants for charitable aid.

Not content with furnishing more oranges than any equal-sized territory in the world, and being the banner county of Southern California, possessing the most valuable gold mines in the State, containing thousands upon thousands of acres of the best grain and hay lands of the State, and producing delicious fruits in every nook and corner by the carload, Riverside county contains a large number of hills which, to the casual observer, would appear to be entirely worthless, yet are mines of superior lime rock, from 90 to 100 per cent. pure lime. Two such hills are being worked in the immediate vicinity of Riverside, one in the vicinity of San Jacinto, and there are others of equally as good rock in the southern and western portion of the county. The lime produced from these hills brings the highest market prices and is in great demand. Its production is becoming quite an industry.

TROUBLE AT THE PALACE.

A Waiter Accused of Frying to Defraud the House.
Proprietor Barnard of the Palace saloon and restaurant thought he detected a waiter last night in the act of defrauding the house. He called the man into his private office and discharged him, asking him at the same time to turn in his cash. The waiter refused to do so until he was paid the wages due him. Mr. Barnard told him to call around on Monday, which is his regular pay day, and he would be paid in full. The man, however, demanded an instant settlement and would not turn over the cash in his possession (about $5) on any other condition. The proprietor thereupon telephoned for an officer and the waiter was taken to the police station, but was released, as the officers were of the opinion that he had a right to demand his salary. The moment he was discharged, and were not sure they had a right to hold him for embezzlement, under the circumstances. Mr. Barnard says he will settle with the man today. The waiter indignantly denies that he attempted to defraud the house, but the proprietor says he caught him in the act of "knocking down."

THE MORMONS.

TWO BRANCHES OF THE CHURCH IN LOS ANGELES.

The Reorganized Division Has the Larger Following, but the Original Saints are Still Proselyting—The Services That Were Held Yesterday.

The morning service yesterday at the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints was rendered very interesting by a sermon from Rev. W. W. Blair of Lamoni, Iowa, who is making a tour of the Pacific Coast, in order to ascertain the condition of the church in the West, and to lend it the personal aid and encouragement of one of the highest officers in the Reorganized Church. Dr. Blair is one of the first presidents of the church, and stands next to the highest in authority.

Every seat was filled yesterday in the Knights of Pythias lodge room, where the services of the Reorganized Church were held, and a very attentive and interested congregation listened to the sermon of the president, who spoke at length upon the subject of "Divine Inspiration," taking his text from the saying of Job: "There is a spirit in man, and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding." Dr. Blair asserted it as his belief that there were different degrees of inspiration, even as there are different degrees of light, and that the direct inspiration of the Holy Spirit is not confined to the churches, but goes abroad upon all men. Inspiration is the mighty power of God, by which all things are brought to pass, and it operates in the world, as well as in the spiritual world, moving even upon the careless or wicked through the workings of conscience.

The first manifestation of inspiration Dr. Blair asserted to be that of superintendency, or complete control of the whole nature by the Holy Spirit. This control is manifested in prophecies, dreams, visions, the gift of tongues, etc., and was the form of inspiration under which the law of Moses and the books of the prophets were written.

The next development, said the speaker, is plenary inspiration, the gift of the Holy Spirit in its fullest completeness, as shown in the Christ. His life, work and teachings, as shown in the gospels, are a reflection of the perfect mind of God, and hence the model of the perfect human nature for all time to come.

Next comes the inspiration of elevation, the state of ideal exaltation in which all faculties are lifted up to their highest capacity. This degree of inspiration, Dr. Blair declares, is most often seen in ministers of the gospel, and although not perfect or complete, it leads to great clearness of perception, and often to inestimable spiritual gifts.

The most ordinary form of inspiration is by suggestion, the inward premonitions and convictions that come to nearly every one, and which are but the light of God's spirit reflected upon the heart in a thousand different ways. This inspiration has directed the energies and emboldened the hearts of all the great religious reformers, teachers, statesmen and discoverers in all ages of the world, and the gift shall increase and be unto all people in the latter days, when shall come, when angels shall minister unto the sons of men, and the spirit of God shall be over every nation upon earth.

Dr. Blair dwelt upon the restlessness of inquiry which distinguishes the age, and upon the danger of being led astray by false prophets and demagogues, and the necessity of endeavoring to build up the Reorganized Church out of the fragments of so many elements and opinions.

THE SAINTS.

The Book of Mormon Clearly Proved a Divine Revelation.

The Mormons believe in missionary work in Los Angeles, as all over the country, are its representatives, striving to bring the Gentiles into the fold. The church is never embarrassed by a deficiency in the missionary fund. It needs no such fund, though proselyting goes briskly on all the time. The chief priests say to a man, "Good-by, John, you are going to the South Sea Islands to convert the heathen, and you will stay three years." And John goes. He doesn't stop and kick because his salary isn't big enough, for he has no salary, and has to pay every penny of his expenses himself.

There is a colony of Saints here in Los Angeles, which holds weekly services in Forester's Hall, No. 246 South Spring street, under the fostering care of Elders John R. Smith and M. H. Thomas. At last evening's meeting there were thirteen men and eight women in attendance. Somehow the men always have adopted Mormonism with more alacrity than the women. Elder Thomas gave the address of the evening. He demonstrated beyond cavil, and to the satisfaction of the most sceptical, that the Book of Mormon is a divinely-inspired revelation. "There are no few that understand it," said Mr. Thomas. Then he poured forth whole floods of scripture to prove his statement that the Book of Mormon had been prophesied by the wise men of biblical times, that it harmonized completely with the Bible, and that there was no possibility of fraud, for had not three honest men seen angel-brought plates on which this new revelation was inscribed in an unknown tongue, decipherable only by the holy Joseph Smith, and these three men had hefted the plates with their hands.

COUNCIL FORECAST.

Two New Police Commissioners Will

The City Council is expected during its session today to fill the vacancies on the Board of Police Commissioners, created by the declination last week of Julius H. Martin and the resignation of Henry Glass, who were each tendered the office by the Council. The two men who are most talked of for the positions are A. C. Day and C. Long, who belong to the Republican and Democratic parties, respectively.

The Finance Committee has been considering the question of erecting a fence in the rear of the City Hall, but, as noted in The Times of yesterday, the committee is divided upon the proposition, Councilman Snyder favoring the same, with Councilman Blanchard, indifferent, and Councilman Stockwell acting as president of the Council, and, in consequence, exempt from action with the committee, of which he is chairman. The final action of the committee is problematical.

The Sewer Committee will report, recommending that the Building Superintendent be instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the repairing of the plumbing in the City Hall, concerning which there has been so much complaint.

The Board of Public Works will recommend that bids for an electric railway franchise on West Eighth street be advertised for by the Council. This is the franchise which the Los Angeles Traction Railway Company wishes to purchase, and the recommendation to be made by the board is the outcome of a long struggle between the company and the property owners, which thus far has resulted in victory for the railroad people. The franchise may perhaps be opposed in the council, but the recommendation of the board is unanimous in the matter, the project is not apt to suffer defeat at this point.

Councilman Kingsley proposes bringing up the question of constructing or providing a public market in the city and has prepared a resolution upon the subject, which he will move that the matter be referred to a committee of three members of the Council.

The City Clerk will present his report, showing the results of the Board of Equalization's work, and advising the Council that it will now be in order to fix the tax levy for the coming fiscal year.

A Sunday Fire.

The fire department was summoned by a telephone alarm yesterday morning to the house of Dr. W. E. Anderson at No. 919 Denver avenue. A shed in the rear of the house had in some manner caught fire. The damage was about $10. Park hose wagon was broken by a collision with a tree on the way to the fire. The front part of the running gear was considerably damaged.

CLEVER SPORTING WOMEN NOW DRIVE FIVE HORSES.

Howlett, of Paris, Rivals Good Gowns as an Attraction to Women Who Go Abroad—The Younger Set at Newport Are Expert with the Reins.

(From a Special Contributor to The Times.)

Never before in the history of sport has coaching and driving been so popular as this season.

Rain or shine, any afternoon in a country neighborhood, one can see four-in-hand journeying to and fro with merry passengers or tandem teams. T-carts, tra-la-las and every gone in for four-in-hand driving, and her coach is one of the smartest as well as her costumes.

Miss Helen Ripley Benedict is another fair American whip. She took lessons of Howlett. Her reputation as a whip is international. Miss Edith Van Euren is a close rival. Her reputation is well established, and even in England she is considered as clever with the reins as any woman there.

Perhaps it is not necessary to say "even in England," for Americans are quite outstripping English women in this respect.

Just of late an enterprising woman at Long Beach has filled all the masculine hearts thereabout with envy by tooling a coach drawn by five thoroughbred along the fashionable drive. She has them harnessed two and two, with a big showy bay in front leading the four. The effect is fine, and proves cleverness with the reins.

FLOWERS FOR PERFUMES.

FARM OF ROSES, VIOLETS AND LAVENDER.

How the Flowers are Cultivated and Harvested—How the Perfumes are Extracted—The Work Done by Women—Marketing.

(From a Special Contributor to The Times.)

Nearly a century ago commerce recognized the marketable value of flowers, and since that time the cultivation of the manufacture of perfumes and essences has been conducted on an enormous scale, and has formed a special and lucrative industry in Europe.

In Italy, Spain, Turkey, Algeria, India, in fact, wherever the climate is genial, the flowers of the flowers, the intensity of odor for profitable extraction, are seen the flower farms.

But the south of France stands pre-eminently at the head, and those who will brave the almost tropical heat of this region during the hottest season of the year will be repaid a thousand fold by the unusual spectacle presented there of acres of land devoted exclusively to the cultivation of flowers, and mind and body alike will be brought under the spell of masses of gorgeous bloom and the witchery of sweet scented odor.

Within that triangular portion of France, bounded by the towns of Nice, Grasse and Cannes, is the Valley of the Flower Farms. This small area is the largest flower-growing district in the world, and of these three towns Grasse leads the world in the manufacture of perfumes in other respects. The flowers are more for ornamental purposes. Here they grow like grass, corn and potatoes. Here the jasmine, tuberose, jonquil, bloom in the garden, but in the fields. This is a land flowing, not with milk and honey, but with orange flower and rose water, and violet and jasmine butter. Dozens of many miles may be taken through these enchanted grounds, and long before reaching them the air is oppressive with the odor.

It has been proposed to cultivate flowers in England for perfumery purposes, but the climate renders the scheme practically impracticable. The two perfumery ingredients in which England really excels are lavender and peppermint. These plants in a warm, genial climate would grow rank and strong, thereby failing to accomplish the end desired. Italy produces chiefly essences of bergamot, orange and lemon. To Turkey we are indebted for the far-famed attar of roses. But the flowers such as violets, jasmine, orange roses and tuberose, which form the basis of the finest perfumes, are grown to perfection in the Cannes Valley. Among the minor projects of this region are rosemary and lavender, grown principally in the rural districts by the grape and olive farmers, who have the rude, primitive appliances necessary to distill the flowers and who produce a sort of crude essences, which are used to adulterate the more expensive perfumes.

BESTLANDS FOR FLOWER FARMS.

From observation of practical florists and horticulturists there are certain essential conditions necessary to the success of this industry. First, an altitude of from 500 to 2000 feet, for flowers grow on such a height are said to have a much richer perfume than similar varieties blooming in the lowlands. Next, a soil of the stony, loamy and calcareous composition. Thirdly, the situation should be sheltered from the cold north winds and not subject to the white frosts of the damp lowlands. Where rainfall is scanty irrigation is necessary during the summer months to produce a rich perfume.

One principle strictly adhered to in this manufacture is that all fancy and improved varieties of flowers should be excluded, and only the plain, old-fashioned varieties of the country should be grown. The most common pink one and the white jasmine is always used, the yellow and less fragrant being discarded. The single violet is preferred to the double, and the double tuberose is never seen on the farms. Violets, jonquils and magnolias are usually gathered in February, March and April, and the white flowers the violets begin as early as December. Roses and orange blossoms, with thyme and rosemary, in June; jasmine and lavender in July; August; lavender and spikenard in September, and the acacia in October and November. May and June are the best months for the gathering of roses and orange blossoms are gathered. So, as can be seen, the entire season covers three-quarters of the year.

HOW FLOWER-FARMING IS CONDUCTED.

As a rule, landed proprietors make arrangements with the growers to plant laboratory to work the farm, reserving a share of the profits, frequently a third. Often during the harvest season travelers, or "middlemen," go through the country buying flowers, for which prices varying according to the extent of the crop and the market value are paid. The flowers are then hurried to the distillery, while they are still fresh and crisp. On many of these farms laboratories are erected on the grounds, and the flowers are transported to the distilleries.

The soil and climate here render the necessary farming operations very simple. For roses, the field is first scantily manured, especially with refuse matter, and the plants are set in rows. The plants are then plowed with oxen and carefully weeded. New shoots, with a few roots of old roses, are planted in the field, and the bushes bear the second year, but they are not fully matured until the fourth year. A carefully-attended and well-watered rose plantation will produce six to eight years. Ten thousand roses are required to cover an acre, and in an average season this acre will produce 5000 pounds weight of roses. The jasmine is grown from slips of the wild jasmine, and at the end of two years is grafted with the Spanish jasmine which produces the white blossoms about an inch in diameter. To stock an acre 80,000 plants are required. They are not full bearing until two years after they are grafted, but at maturity each 1000 plants yield about sixty pounds weight of blossoms annually. The more flowers picked the more blossoms are produced. They are planted in rows with horizontal interwoven between them for support.

THE FLOWER HARVEST.

During the harvest season, from morning until night the fields are alive with women and children with their little baskets hanging from a strap over the shoulder, busy with their picking of the blossoms. As each basket is filled it is conveyed to a shaded laboratory and carefully weighed.

The tuberose is a difficult plant to rear, but is the most profitable, for a good plantation with good soil will last seven or eight years. In this country the roses grow almost anywhere, but the terrible sun of Nice during July and August takes the vitality from the plants, so, as a protection, they are planted beneath the cool green shade of the orange trees. The violet is propagated by a division of the roots. They are planted in a cluster of a foot square, allowing space between for the growers to gather the flowers without trampling upon them. An acre of land yields seventy or eighty pounds weight of flowers.

HOW PERFUMES ARE EXTRACTED.

The process of extracting the odor from the flowers is partly chemical, partly agricultural. The laboratories as a rule stand in the middle of these flower farms, and the farmer carries his own labor to the mill to be ground, so the land-holders carry the flowers to the laboratories. There are four different processes in use in making perfumes, pomades and essences—distillation, expression, maceration and absorption of "enfleurage." Every complete establishment is equipped with apparatus for all these processes. Distillation is employed for plants, barks, woods, and a few flowers. Expression is confined to essences, which are obtained from the seeds of fruits. It is performed in different ways. On the coast of Genoa the fruit is rubbed against grates funnels. In Calabria they roll the fruit between two smooth, one placed inside the other. Maceration and absorption are both founded on the affinity which fatty substances possess for fragrant odors. It consists in placing flowers in a base of hot grease, letting them infuse for some time. The flowers are then renewed and this operation is repeated until the grease is saturated with the fragrance of the flowers. This grease is called pomade.

ABSORPTION THE USUAL METHOD.

The process of absorption or "enfleurage" is the one most used. A series of glass frames 20x30 inches are covered on each side with a thin layer of purified grease in which ridges are made to facilitate absorption. The flowers are placed in the frames, and the frames are covered with a thin layer of grease, and the process is repeated until the grease is saturated with the fragrance of the flowers. This grease is called pomade.

Large quantities of grease are thus prepared during periods when flowers are out of season. Each glass requires about one pound of fat. Fresh gathered flowers are strewn over this grease and renewed every morning. At the end of two or three weeks the grease is sufficiently charged with perfume. The pomade is then scraped off the glass and mixed with a small quantity of alcohol, and the pomade is then strained through a fine cloth, and is then packed in tin cases for export. During the process of enfleurage the frames are arranged in files of forty or fifty each, and several hundred are at work for each kind of flower.

The pomade is used in use for oils, and the frames are instead of being covered with a wire bottom, over which is spread a thick cloth, and the flowers are laid on the cloth, and the cloth is pressed out of the cloth after complete saturation, and when sufficiently charged with perfume, these frames are placed high up in the air, and are then washed with water, and the pomade is then strained through a fine cloth, and is then packed in tin cases for export.

By these methods the delicate odors of flowers are extracted and retained for transportation to distant markets, where, before being treated with alcohol, produce a pure perfume. The pomade is then strained through a fine cloth, and is then packed in tin cases for export.

THE WORK DONE LARGELY BY WOMEN.

The work is done largely by women. During the busy season they work until midnight, and on these farms they receive wages of the ordinary farm hands, as there is nothing about the work requiring any experienced skill. It is preferred to the fact that, in a subject of much speculation, flower farming for this purpose having been carried on so quietly comparatively few persons are acquainted with the fact that the most important branches of the perfume art is the manufacture of toilet soaps. They are generally prepared from the best toilet soaps, which are then scented and scented. England takes the lead in the manufacture of fine toilet soaps. France follows, while those made in Germany are considered very inferior.

Painting Wounds of Trees.

(Joseph Mathias in Cinescope) When you have a tree that is not your tree do not omit to paint the wound as soon as possible. A good many large trees with decayed trunks could have been preserved in perfect condition had painting of the wounds been attended to at the time the scars were made. Painting is particularly necessary in the case of a clean, long trunk, as moisture easily lodges in such scars from severed branches.

When a horizontal limb is severed from the trunk, the wound is a clean, long trunk, as moisture easily lodges in such scars from severed branches.

Deranged Fire-alarm Wires.

The fire-alarm system appeared to be deranged last night. About 10 o'clock an alarm was sounded from box 31 at the corner of Spring and Second streets. Assistant Fire Chief Smith and several engines and trucks promptly responded. A large crowd also rushed to the scene of the supposed fire, but there was no fire. No one had touched the alarm box, it apparently having "gone off" of its own accord. About 11 o'clock the bell in the City Hall tower struck three, twice in quick succession, but as there was no box number 3 or 23, the alarm, of course, was false. This strange freak of the wires is not accounted for.

Concert at Ocean Park.
The concert at Ocean Park on Saturday evening was a success and well attended. A chorus of about seventy-five voices from Los Angeles, under the direction of Charles E. Day, rendered several numbers in a pleasing manner. Mrs. T. T. Bacon gave a piano solo. The tenor solo by Prof. Bacon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Grace Townsend Huebner gave a violin solo in such an acceptable manner that she was twice recalled. One of the most pleasing numbers was a contralto solo by Miss Rosina Frost. The young cornetist, Miss Matilee Loeb made a hit and responded to an encore. Mr. Huber rendered a bass solo. C. S. Cornell gave the beautiful song, "The New Jerusalem," and was recalled. One of the numbers most enjoyed was a quartette composed of Mr. Stella Mathews, Miss Sarrey, Mr. Elmore and Mr. Ragland.

Like a College Yell.
Considerable of a commotion was caused at Marchessault and Alameda streets last night by what sounded like a lot of boys giving a college yell. Investigation developed the fact that, instead of college boys, it was about a dozen Chinamen, who were having a little spread in an upper room of the restaurant at that corner. They had finished eating, and had reached the drinking stage of the function. With spirited gestures two of them at a time would yell out a chorus of "Yee-ha" and in concert; then another two would repeat it, and so on. Between yells they would take little glasses of wine, the whole being at a gulp. It was an unusual sight.

THE BOAT CAPSIZED.

A SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT AT BALLONA HARBOR.

Clarence, Second Son of Joseph Mesmer, Drowned While Boating on the Lagoon—Particulars of the Disaster are Very Meager.

The sad news reached the city yesterday evening that Clarence, second son of Joseph Mesmer, was drowned at Ballona Harbor yesterday afternoon. The only intelligence received about the missing boy was that he had been sent from Inglewood by the boy's grandfather, Louis Mesmer, Sr., to his son-in-law, Charles Whipple.

From the meager information contained in the message it appears that the boy was boat-riding on the Ballona Lagoon, the boat capsized and the boy was drowned. The accident happened between 2 and 3 o'clock. No further particulars were obtainable last night. The news was broken to the parents of the lad by Mrs. Whipple and Mrs. G. J. Griffith, as gently as possible, but the shock was, nevertheless, a severe one.

Clarence Mesmer, aged about 12, was the second of the family of five children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mesmer. He was a bright lad, and was a great favorite of his grandfather, Louis Mesmer, Sr., with whom he had been staying at Ballona for the past few days.

Coroner Campbell has been notified of the boy's death, and will go to Ballona to hold an inquest this morning. The boy's father started for Ballona soon after hearing of the tragedy, yesterday evening.

The bereaved family has the sympathy of a very large circle of friends, but no words of condolence can assuage their grief.

FEEDING THE DEPARTED.

Gifts of Food Presented to the Chinese Dead.

The celebration of the Chinese memorial day is in progress. With many good things to eat and drink, John is paying tribute to the memory of his departed kindred. Roast pork, cigarettes, chopsticks, Chinese wine and various other eatables, drinkables and smokable are among the articles which are contributed for the comfort of the shades of the dead Mongols.

John's memorial day differs from the one celebrated by white people because, as he observes it at his convenience. If he has a bird to see to today, he will probably wait till tomorrow to take the baked pig and other things to the grave of his friend.

The schedule time for the occasion is July 6, according to the Chinese calendar, which this year comes on August 25, according to the American calendar. The celebration was well started yesterday, and a visitor at Evergreen cemetery might have seen an unusual spectacle. In the portion of the cemetery ground set apart for the Chinese is a large altar of cement, with a large and brick fireplace at each end.

About the altar were a profusion of watermelons, cut in halves, grapes, rice, bottles of wine and other things. These articles were strewn about in a way that was very neat. The cement work was more or less smeared with the food, and it did not look as attractive as it might. The idea, the spirit of the departed was being fed, and the spirit of the departed was being fed.

In one of the fire places was a hot mass of burning paper and other things, which would probably cremate a man in short order if he were placed in it. The Chinaman who was attending to things spoke such poor English that the significance of the fire could not be ascertained.

At a few of the graves were placed food and other articles, which made an interesting sight. At each of these was a newspaper spread on the pathway at the head of the grave. On the newspaper, which was held firm to the earth by clods placed on its corners, was a plate of roast pork, which looked edible. Near the pork were two bowls, well filled with cooked rice and three of the tiny cups of tea, such as may be found in any Chinaman's home. In order that the hungry spirit might have a variety of substantial, there was placed near the rice a bowl filled with small live and hard-boiled eggs. The facilities for eating were there, too, for there were three sets of chopsticks ready to be taken in the spirit's hands. When it was thought the spirit would wear out two pairs of the sticks was not stated.

As soon as the meal had been finished, as far as substantial were concerned, there was a dish of grapes for the ghostly dessert. Beside the dish of grapes was a package of cigarettes, from the package a bottle of Chinese wine was placed beside the table. The bottle was not uncorked, but the spirit had probably associated with enough wretchedness from Kentucky to overcome any such obstacle.

In order to brighten things up and demonstrate to the departed on his temporary return that as far as his countenances were concerned, there was no coldness, there was placed near the victuals a lot of tapers which were lighted. Near by was heaped a quantity of paper, cut into small pieces, most of the pieces having on them small patches of silver. These papers were burned, also.

REARING TREES.

The Forestry Experiment Station at Santa Monica Canyon.

In the west branch of old Santa Monica Canyon is a forestry experiment station, managed by the agricultural department of the University of California. Its aim is the introduction and culture of foreign trees of economic importance, timber trees, shade trees, and so on, and the cultivation of fruit trees valuable for their fruit alone.

The thirty-acre garden is an interesting place to visit. It is situated on three different levels—the protected creek bottom, a terrace higher up, and the bare, wind-swept mesa. There are several varieties of soil—sand, black loam, a brown loam and a gravelly soil. Thus the location is unusually well adapted for the purpose.

At the bottom of the canyon is the nursery and propagating department. Long rows of tiny conifers of any number of varieties are growing lustily. Young umbrella trees are putting forth leaves, and several huge clumps of elephant's ears are growing as vigorously as if they were at home in the Hawaiian Islands, where their bulbous roots are ground up to make tea. Everything is very neat, and looks as if the place were run on scientific, common-sense, honest lines.

One follows the crushed-rock road up the hillside, and emerges on a little plateau. On the right is a pretty little cottage, with an arched border by a path. The cottage is a very nice one, and to the left stretches a little wood of eucalyptus trees of countless varieties. A great deal of work has been done by the Australian botanists in the study of the eucalyptus in its manifold forms, and it has been found that portions of the island continent in search of new varieties, where a white than has never before, California. A great many kinds of seed have been sent here, and now the University of California is experimenting with what for it as to the proper shade trees for certain places, the best timber trees, the best for producing firewood, or the best for a wind-break.

The history of the station is rather interesting. A State Forestry Commission was founded some ten years ago, and an expedition was sent to Santa Monica. Jones & Baker donated thirty acres of land for the station, but for some mysterious reason the land was not acquired.

Then there was a fresh political shuffle, and the plan was divided between Walter S. Moore, F. J. Moffit and J. D. Spreckels. An appropriation of $20,000 was given them, with the understanding that they should pay for the land. Nineteen employees were hired at an aggregate of $500 per month. It is whispered that most of these employees were men of the State paid in hard cash. Then an entirely unnecessary office was added, and the plan was again divided. At last, two years ago last July, the Legislature got disgusted with the state of affairs, and the university, the whole concern to the agricultural department of the university. In the next two years the run-down, useless, worthless station was sold to a private party, who is now carrying on a scientific undertaking, the place put in beautiful order, and all by one man, with occasional assistance from another.

The station was a trifle over $4000, including the cost of operating the Chico station. And the previous commissioners had collected about $2000, which was entirely inadequate to support the institution. And it was, it would seem, for there were debts contracted for it in Santa Monica which were not paid.

W. G. Strachan is in charge at present, a competent and honest man who had had several years' experience in the agricultural department at Berkeley before the regents sent him here to make the station what it now is, and ought to be, a credit to California.

WILL LOSE HIS FOOT.

A Pasadena Youth Accidentally Shot by a Companion.

Clifton Reel of Pasadena, a young man about 20 years of age, received a charge of bird shot in his right ankle yesterday afternoon, which will result in the loss of his foot.

Reel, in company with two other youths, Frank Pitrel and Louis Neitz, were hunting at Vernon, just west of the city limits. About 5 o'clock they sighted a large flock of blackbirds, at which young Pitrel was going to take a shot, but before he could raise his gun it was discharged, the entire contents entering Reel's ankle, making a frightful wound.

The unfortunate young man was carried to the Vernon electric road by his companions, and conveyed to the city car. At Second street he was taken off the car and carried to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Bryant and Almsworth dressed his wounds. The surgeons, after a careful examination, decided that amputation would be necessary. The operation will be performed as soon as the young man has recovered from the nervous shock sustained by him. He being under his misfortune with remarkable fortitude.

No blame attaches to young Pitrel, the premature discharge of his gun being purely accidental.

Reel was taken to his home in Pasadena in a carriage about 10 o'clock. A telephone message from that place after his arrival, stated that Dr. Hodge and Turner were then preparing to amputate his foot.

SEPTEMBER WEATHER.

The Range in Heat and Cold We May Expect.

George E. Franklin, weather bureau observer of the Los Angeles station, has issued a bulletin on the average September weather for the past seventeen years. The mean temperature for seventeen years is 70 deg. Fah. The mean temperature for the month has varied from 74 deg. in 1888 to 66 deg. in 1890. On September 21, 1885, the mercury swelled up to 108 deg. On September 23 and 25, 1880, it went down to 44 deg.

The average precipitation for the month is .06 of an inch. The greatest rainfall was .73 of an inch in 1894. There was none at all in 1877, 1878, 1879, 1880, 1883, 1885, 1886, 1889, 1892. On September 30, 1894, 71 of an inch fell in twenty-four consecutive hours.

The average number of clear days is 17, of partly cloudy ones 13, and of cloudy days only 1. The west wind is the prevailing one, and the strongest on record reached a velocity of twenty-eight miles, on September 18, 1882.

A party of invited friends yesterday afternoon assisted Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Watkins in celebrating their tin wedding anniversary, at their home, corner of Sixteenth and Alameda streets. The occasion was made a barbecue, with feasting, music and dancing. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Watkins, Miss Ethel Watkins, Miss Kate Lagau, Miss Lillian Roscoe, Mrs. Roscoe, Mr. and Mrs. B. Smith, Mrs. and Mrs. A. ## SACRAMENTO'S CARNIVAL.

A Grand Electric Display on the Evening of September 24th. The Times has received an invitation to be present at the grand Electric Carnival, to be held in Sacramento on September 24. It is to be a most novel and interesting demonstration, and is the more important because it celebrates the transmission of almost unlimited electric power from Volcan to Sacramento. This will admit of the city being transformed into a blaze of light on the night of the Carnival, and arrangements have been made for electric arches, electric floats and brilliant illuminations that will be gorgeously beautiful. In the parade at night will be the Chinese Jugglers in lights of every color. The railroad-shop employees will alone provide twelve grand floats. The Native Sons and Daughters who will be in Sacramento on the thousands on Admission Day, will participate in the parade, as will also the military and many civic societies. In fact, it is to be a grand affair, and will mark a new era in the history of the Capital City.

An Executive Committee of prominent citizens has been appointed, with Hon. Joseph Steffen as chairman, and J. O. Coleman, director-general, and extensive arrangements are being made for the affair.

Chinese Newspaper Editorials.

The Chinese newspapers which are received in this country from China, it is stated, have very little editorial comment on the Chinese-Japanese war and later events in connection with it. They contain dispatches which are in substance the same as printed in the American papers. The reason for this is that the Chinese newspaper editors are afraid to take side on the question. A great many of the common people object to the acceptance of a treaty as proposed by those in authority, and the result is that if the editor declares himself in favor of the course pursued by the government authorities the common people will come upon the streets, might chop off his head. If the editor declares against the policy adopted by the government officials he is liable to lose his caput and the result is that he thinks it better not to have any pronounced opinions on the question.

A Hospital Benefit.

The outdoor production of Shakespeare's favorite comedy, "As You Like It," will be given on the evening of Wednesday, September 4, at Sycamore Grove, the occasion being for the benefit of the Hospital of the Good Samaritan. The production is under the personal supervision of Fred A. Cooper, manager of the Burbank Theater, which is a sufficient guarantee that the play will be given in a manner that will reflect credit upon the presentation. The object is a most worthy one, and an immense concourse of spectators will no doubt be present. A good many tickets have already been disposed of, and the undertaking is sure to be a success. The cast will be an excellent one, and it will be announced in a few days. Ample railroad accommodations have been made for the comfort of all who may attend, and great preparations are going ahead to have the event one that will give no opportunity for the slightest adverse criticism.

DO YOU make doughnuts this way?

For frying, Cottoleone must be hot, but don't let it get hot enough to smoke or it will be burned and spoiled. To find if it is hot enough, test it by throwing into it a single drop of water. When at just the heat, the water will pop. Get the genuine.

The Cottoleone trade-mark are "Cottoleone" and "steer's head in cottoleone" signs.
